Pearsite Company is Awaiting Material

During the past few weeks a number of men have been laid off at the Pearsite works owing to a shortage of material used in the construction of their buildings. Owing to the European war, building material, particularly steel, is very hard to obtain and delivery of orders is uncertain. As soon as the material, which has been ordered for several weeks, arrives here all the men will be put back to work.

In the meantime, the laboratory staff has been added to and the actual manufacturing of dyes goes on day and night, and orders are being received which keeps the plant working to capacity. As soon as it is definitely known whether or not Congress will protect the dye industry from foreign competition at the close of the European war, the size of the plant here will be determined. Several more retorts were received here this week, and will be put into operation at once, and as soon as the steel required for the buildings arrives, everything will be humming again.

Farmers to Meet at Frankfort

The State Farmers Institute which meets next Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday at Frankfort, promises to be one of the best meetings ever held by that body. The program is an excellent one, and embraces talks on many subjects of great importance to farmers.

Buying More Hogs

D. R. Daniel this week bought of Robert Conlee, forty head of hogs, paying 6.25 for them. They will average about 185 pounds.

To Settle Estate

The estate of the late James Combs, who died about a year ago, will be sold at the Combs place near West Bend, on Thursday, Feb. 17, by Arthur Combs, Administrator.

To Vote On Issue Of Road Bonds

A petition bearing the requisite number of property owners in the county was presented to the county court at Stanton Monday, and a vote will be taken in about sixty days to determine whether or not the people of the county will have good roads built.

This is the third time that such a petition has been circulated, the first one being faulty in that it contained the names of other than property owners, and the second one being killed after being presented to the court and the date for the election set, by failure to advertise,—this being due to the court order being wrongly drawn up. This petition however, is correctly drawn, and the court order was likewise correct; and there seems little doubt at this time but that it will be voted on and pass by a good majority.

Several of those interested in better roads for our county have put in a great deal of work in getting this issue before the people and a great deal of credit is due them. Those who, perhaps, took the largest share of the work of circulating the petitions were J. W. McIntosh, of near Lulbegrud, who looked after the lower end of the county; J. E. Burgher and J. M. Kennon, who worked this section, and Dr. I. W. Johnson, of Stanton, who has been an indefatigable worker in the upper end. There are many others, also, who devoted considerable time to this, but these men appear to have taken the greatest interest, and to them a larger measure of credit is due.

Stanley Refuses to Pardon Bootlegger

Governor Stanley last week refused to grant a pardon to George M. Riddle, of Union county, convicted of bootlegging and sentenced on two counts to pay a fine and serve ten days in jail on each count. Riddle was a personal friend of Governor Stanley's, and fully expected to be pardoned. In refusing to grant executive clemency Governor Stanley said that his intention was to see that the existing liquor laws were enforced, as far as they concerned him, and he believed that only by so doing, could the real value of the local option laws be brought out. He also stated that he believed jail sentence to be much more effective as deterrents than fines would be, and gave the impression that it would be no use for anyone to ask a pardon for a breach of the liquor laws.

Buys Good Farm

Carter Reynolds has purchased the 100 acre farm on the Spout Spring road known as the Niblack place, paying $1,000 for it. Mr. Reynolds will build a house on the place and move there in the spring.

Married In Alabama

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Jordan arrived here Sunday from Bessemer, Ala., where they were married last Wednesday at the home of the bride, who was Miss Mattie Belle Garbis. Mr. Jordan is one of the engineers connected with the Pearsite Company, and during the short time he has been here has made many friends who are extending congratulations to the young couple. Mr. and Mrs. Jordan are domiciled for the present at the Clay City Hotel, but expect to start housekeeping in the spring.

Old Timer Here

Mr. J. D. McKinney, of Hudson, Ill., paid a pleasant visit to The Times office Tuesday, on his way to Spout Spring, to visit his brother, Thomas McKinney, who has been ill for some time. Mr. McKinney has been living in Illinois for the past 34 years, although he makes periodical trips to his old home here. This year he has rented all his farm land out and is taking a well earned rest. He has been visiting relatives in Clark for the past few weeks.

Leasing Oil Lands

Up at Stanton Monday practically every landowner from the upper end of the county was busy talking about the prospects for oil in that section. It appears that nearly all the available land has been leased for drilling purposes by various oil companies, and the sinking of test wells is being awaited with great interest. Machinery is now being brought in and a number of wells are being planned. Should the field develop into a valuable one, it will mean a great deal to the county, and we trust that several good wells will be located before long.

Mr. Baker, of the Farmers' Union Store, was a guest at the hospitable home of J. G. Rogers, the other night. They had music and singing and a thoroughly enjoyable time.

Why You Should Vote For The Road Bonds

There are many reasons why every citizen of the county should vote in favor of the road bonds, and we think that nearly all who use our roads realize that something should be done. Only a few days ago we heard a physician who has practiced in this county for a number of years and who is held in the greatest esteem by his fellow citizens, state that if the bonds were not voted and no roads were built, that he would be compelled to leave Powell county and go elsewhere. And who could blame him for his action should he leave here? We happen to know that only a few nights ago this same physician answered a call that demanded immediate attention and nearly lost his life in struggling through some of the mudholes on one of the most traveled roads in the county.

Then, again, we noticed one of our best farmers, who each year raises a crop of tobacco, trying to get that crop to market. As every one knows, there are certain times when tobacco must be put on the market if it is to bring the best price, and this man had to hire an extra team and driver to get his load to where the Clark county pike adjoins this county. We don't know what he paid for this extra team but from seeing the shape they were in on their return we venture to say that it was more than the extra road tax would amount to. To the average farmer who has just the ordinary amount of traveling to do on the roads, the extra taxes on account of the bonds would be no more than the extra wear and tear is now on his wagons and teams.

Think it over and if you are opposed to the issuance of bonds to build pikes in Powell county come to our office and we will tell you twenty more good reasons why you should be in favor of pikes.

A HOME-MADE PAPER.

THURSDAY, FEB. 10, 1916

What chance has a bachelor got, anyway? Bannie Tabor, of Rowan county, has introduced a bill to tax every unmarried man, whose income is at least $600, ten dollars for each year he remains unmarried; and, not satisfied with that, the County Judge and County Clerk of Fayette have conspired to encourage the fair sex by offering free licenses and free weddings to the couples who will admit that the lady "popped the question."

Governor Stanley made several friends a few days ago when he refused to pardon Alexander, the Paris banker, who was convicted last year for wrecking a Paris bank, and for whose pardon several petitions have been presented. Governor Stanley reviewed the case thoroughly, but after finding out that widows, orphans and needy ones had all been robbed by Alexander, he declined to grant him executive clemency. Had a pardon been granted, it would have been a blot on Stanley's administration that it would take years to erase.

In his refusal to grant a pardon to George H. Riddle, of Union county, who is a personal friend of the Governor, Mr. Stanley shows that it was not an electioneering scheme when he said he would uphold the county unit law, believing that the proper enforcement of it would regulate the liquor traffic sufficiently. It was a favorite cry with our Republican brethren before the election that Stanley would let the county unit law go to grass should he be elected, but his action in this regard shows that he meant what he said. Mr. Stanley may be against prohibition, but if he will show those who are convicted for violations of the liquor law that they will not be pardoned without good cause, we feel that he is doing as much as any prohibitionist could do.

Senator J. Will Clay, who represents Bourbon, Clark and Montgomery, three "dry" counties, in the Kentucky Senate, is getting a lot of hot shot fired at him over his vote on the question of the submission of a statewide prohibition amendment to the people. Mr. Clay knows, and has known for some time, the feelings of his constituents, on this question, but he deliberately turned them down and lined up with the liquor people. Therefore he deserves all he gets, and from what his own people are saying of him, he will get "a plenty."

We were glad to notice how Dr. Evans stood on this question, and how he respected the wishes of those who voted for him.

It is no more than right that the people of the State should have a chance to vote on the statewide question and say

Health is Basis of All Content

The Half Sick Man or Woman Is a Stranger To Happiness

Contentment is the very essence of happiness. But to be contented, or happy, if you will, one must first have good health. Our supreme toast to the one we admire is "Health, wealth and happiness," and the key-stone is health.

So many persons complain of being nervous and run down. This is the age of speed, we haven't time to care for ourselves. These run down men and women are not exactly sick, but just tired out, languid or maybe good-for-nothing most of the time. Their business, their home and their life suffer.

They need something to build them up, something to throw off these symptoms of a weakened debilitated condition produced by either mental or physical overwork or by the abuse of a vital organ—more often the stomach than any other.

That something has been found. It is Tanlac. A tonic of rare properties, an appetizer and general invigorant that rids the system of congestion, tones up the stomach, overcoming indigestion, headaches, backaches, non-assimilation of food, nervousness, dizziness, ailments of kidneys and liver, and the complaints that are so common to the half sick, debilitated men and women today.

Its effect is like lifting your spirits gently back to the level of the world's happiness that rests on health.

Tanlac may be obtained now in Stanton, Ky., at Hardwick & Co's, and in Clay City, at Eaton and McGuire's, where its properties are cheerfully explained to all callers.

AIN'T THAT THE TRUTH?

The editor of a country newspaper recently offered a prize for the best answer to the conundrum: "Why is a newspaper like a woman?" The prize was properly awarded to a married lady who sent in this answer: "Because every man should have one and not be running after his neighbor's."

Idea Comparison. That a patent for a screw-propelled steam vessel had been issued as far back as 1803 recently was discovered in the French patent office.

It Always Helps

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill."

SAW A NEGLECTED SPECIES

Little Robbie Pointed Out One Thing Which Certainly the Fly Couldn't Do.

In the opinion of some persons, the new teacher was going almost too far in her attention to nature study. However, the children appeared to enjoy it all, and so far no parents had made open objections to the little talks on birds, insects and flowers with which the teacher diversified the routine of school work. So all went along quite comfortably until the afternoon when the fly and the flea were up for consideration, says the Youth's Companion.

Following the teacher's lead, the children had all grown enthusiastic over the astonishing acrobatic abilities of the fly—all except Robbie May, who for some time had been staring moodily at his desk, casting only occasional glances at the teacher, and those unmistakably sullen.

It became so noticeable, by the time they were all admiring the fact that the fly can walk on the ceiling, that the teacher paused and turned to the boy.

"What is the trouble, Robbie?" she inquired. "Aren't you listening? Aren't you interested in the talk?"

"Ye-es," granted Robbie, reluctantly polite. Then, warming up. "but I bet a fly can't hang by his knees, and every boy in school can do it, all 'cept Laurie Lee, and he's had the diphthery!"

BURY ST. EDMUNDS FORTIFIED

English City Has Long Figured as One of the Most Important of the Island Centers.

Germany will find no difficulty in describing Bury St. Edmunds as a fortified place. Its name gives it away. Bury St. Edmunds was known of old as St. Edmunds Bury—the castle or "strong town" of that king of East Anglia who was put to death by the Danes in 859; and so became a saint. The six pious priests who decided to perpetuate his memory were the unconscious founders of a town and an abbey that afterward became the greatest ecclesiastical establishment in all England, except Glastonbury. Leland, an eyewitness of its splendors, assures us "that the sun hath not shone on a town more delightfully situated, with a small river flowing on the eastern part, or a monastery more illustrious, whether we consider its wealth, its extent, or its incomparable magnificence."

You might indeed say that the monastery itself is a town, so many gates there are, so many towers, and a church than which none can be more magnificent; and subservient to which are three others, also splendidly adorned with admirable workmanship, all standing in one and the same churchyard.—London Chronicle.

CHEERFUL PEDESTRIANS.

Auto accidents multiply, especially on Sunday. When the machines were first introduced they seemed likely to kill all the pedestrians, but now the owners are killing themselves much faster than they are killing us. If the statistics continue we shall be ahead in the game ultimately.—Fredonia (N. Y.) Censor.

HUMANITY'S SPLENDID FUTURE.

"Don't you care for the opinion of posterity?"

"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum. "But after enginies produces a race of perfect human beings I don't believe that there is any chance of this generation's being able to command anything from posterity more than tolerating pity."

Strikes it Rich

Mr. J. M. Kennon, who has discovered a rich quarry of crystallized limestone on his place on Hardwicks Creek, has a gang of men at work uncovering the quarry to find the extent of it, and from present indications the supply appears to be inexhaustible. As soon as the roads are in shape for heavy hauling, or when the pike is built, Mr. Kennon will start a number of men and teams at hauling to the railroad, where the stuff is worth $15.00 per ton. A large quantity of it will be used by the Pearsite Company at their plant here and the balance will be shipped. One contract that Mr. Kennon has, calls for the delivery of twenty tons a day and this will mean a lot of work for local men and teams.

What with this mine, the oil wells that are being drilled and the work being done by the Pearsite Co., and the Brodhead-Garreo Co., it looks as though Powell county would be a veritable hive of industry in the near future. Here's hoping.

For The Booze Fighter

For the married man who cannot get along without drink, the following is suggested as a means of freedom from bondage to the saloons:

Start a saloon in your own house. Be the only customer; you'll have no license to pay. Go to your wife and give her two dollars to buy a gallon of whiskey, and remember there are sixty-nine drinks in a gallon. Buy your drinks from no one but your wife, and by the time the first gallon is gone she will have eight dollars to put in the bank and two dollars to start business again. Should you live ten years and continue to buy booze from her, and then die with snakes in your boots, she will have enough to bury you decently, educate your children, buy a house and lot, marry a decent man, and quit thinking about you entirely.

In Memory of

By A NADA FRIEND.

Here thy loss they deeply feel:
But 'tis God who hath bereft them—
He can all their sorrows heal.
As Jesus died, and rose again
Victorious from the dead;
So will His followers rise, and reign
With their triumphant Head.

Estill County Attorney Arrested

A dispatch from Richmond states that County Attorney, J. L. Carpenter, of Estill, was arrested Monday night for threatening Jailor Horn with a pistol when the Jailor refused to release a nephew of Carpenter's who was in jail. Carpenter is said to have been drinking. He was disarmed and placed in jail, but was released next morning.

Carpenter is the man who declared he was marked for death in Estill, owing to his activity in the trials of Wallace and Haines for the killing of Huston Underwood. The statement created quite a sensation at the time.

Mrs. Norah LeMaster, of Iowa, is visiting her brother, A. T. Stewart.

Dudley Candell, who is attending school here, threw his arm out of joint one day last week, but it is doing nicely now.

Bob Stone is visiting his sister Mrs. Owens, in Winchester, this week. It is reported that Mrs. Owens is some better since her paralytic stroke.

Mrs. Carrie Tipton was called Sunday morning to the bedside of her brother Irvin Faulkner of Middletown, Ohio, who is dangerously sick with pneumonia fever. Latest news is that he is very low.

Fred R. Blackburn is in Lexington this week taking in the meetings that are being held by leading farmers and road men. He attended a meeting of the State Board of Agriculture at Louisville last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Conlee are going to start housekeeping as soon as they can get some coal. It seems that there is a scarcity of that precious commodity these cold days. In the meantime they are staying on the farm with Mr. Conlee's father.

Mr. and Mrs. Yates, of Glencairn, have come to Hatton Creek to hold a series of meetings. They are denouncing all the churches and everybody that belongs to a church, classifying them as vipers and hypocrites and villifying everybody on Hatton Creek.

Walter Thacker visited in Richmond over Sunday. We wonder why Walter went all the way to Richmond to attend church. Oh yes; we remember that several of the school teachers of Powell county are attending the State Normal there and Walter is quite interested in the school.

Splendid prayer meetings are being held at the Christian church on Wednesday night and at the Presbyterian church on Friday night. The attendance is increasing at both places and great interest is taken by those who come. There was a large crowd in County Court, Monday, and great interest was taken in the proposed road bond issue about to be voted on. The required number of names to the petition calling for an election was secured without trouble. It will be a great day for Powell when she will have piked roads from one end of the county to the other. Good roads are badly needed everywhere. We are paying a road tax to help other people build roads in their counties and we get no benefit from this tax. Let us take this tax and build for ourselves.
